Combining meticulous surgical skills with state-of-the-art non-invasive treatments, Harley St Aesthetics offers clients the best of both worlds to achieve their desired outcome. Plastic surgeon, Dr Dirk Kremer, came to London in 2009 and has been sought out by European celebrities and ‘A Listers’ ever since.

Plastic surgery changes lives every day and its blend of art and science attracted Dr Dirk Kremer from the start. Prompted to travel the world, Dr Kremer sought out the finest plastic surgeons to learn from. Now he brings together the very best cosmetic surgery techniques in his London-based practice, Harley St. Aesthetics.

Harley St. Aesthetics offers a whole range of treatments and surgeries for the face and body. The practice, and Dr Kremer, have become known for signature techniques including the Turn Back Time (T-B-T) Facelift and Eyelift, his latest signature vertical dual-plane facelift, as well as his split-muscle breast augmentation.

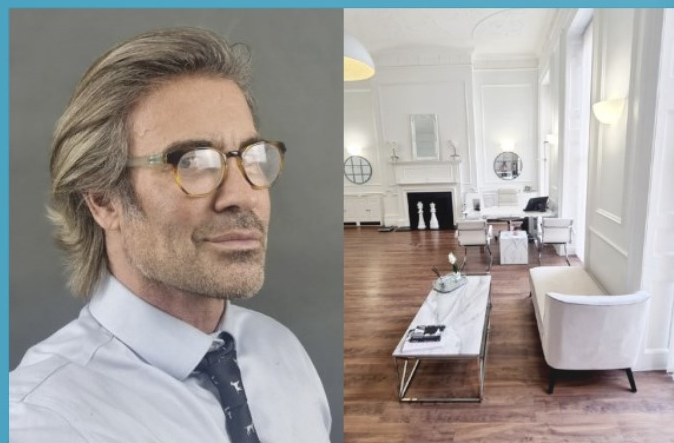

German-born Dr Kremer, trained at one of Germany’s foremost teaching hospitals. For his passion, facial rejuvenation, he trained with leading plastic surgeons in Los Angeles. In 2009 he followed a call to London. With the reputation as one of the most progressive cosmetic surgeons in the UK Dr. Kremer found himself on multiple ‘best surgeon’-lists over the past year. In 2011 he finally founded Harley St. Aesthetics which he remembers as a matter of his heart.

At Harley St. Aesthetics, having a relationship of mutual trust with every patient is of utmost importance. Being down-to-earth and approachable, Dr Kremer’s consultation method seamlessly blends professionalism with his own relaxed attitude. He understands how daunting cosmetic surgery can be for new patients. And so, consultations take as long as required so that patients feel 100% comfortable with their decision. There’s no rush. Questions and concerns are addressed so that patients have no doubts about what goals are realistic and achievable for them.

Dr Kremer considers factors such as how the surgery will complement the rest of your body. This helps to produce a look that is natural for your age. He then looks at your previous medical history, lifestyle, and your personal desires. Each client receives a bespoke plan for their cosmetic surgery procedure that includes surgery expectations, recovery times and aftercare.

Dr Dirk Kremer values empathy, competence, and natural results. These pillars form the heart of his plastic surgery procedures.

Unlike larger clinics, Dr Kremer is the only surgeon at Harley St. Aesthetics. When you choose his clinic, you are choosing him as your surgeon. He will be by your side from the first consultation to the final follow-up. Dr Kremer’s first priority is always the well-being and happiness of his patients.

Harley St. Aesthetics in the heart of world-famous Harley St. offers in-house state-of-the-art equipped and fully licenced operation theatres with overnight facilities and 24-hour nurses to be able to give its patients the certainty to get the best care possible while in its care.
